2007 – New Challenges for the REBUILD IRAQ RECRUITMENT PROGRAM

BAGHDAD, BERLIN (February 2007)

Also in the third year of its existence, the RIRP meets the challenges connected with its work in Iraq. The last years showed that although the situation is still very difficult German and international companies are active and still enter the market to take part in the reconstruction of the country.

To provide a solid basis for coming projects and requirements the training programs initialized and organised by RIRP for companies as well as public facilities become more and more important. These trainings ensure that the Iraqi specialists are in the best possible position to represent the companies on site in the most efficient way

The training initiatives organised by RIRP range from advanced training for engineers from the field of Plant- and Power Engineering for companies like ABB up to trainings for public facilities like the port of Khor Al Zubair. For the employees of Khor Al Zubair, in cooperation with HPTI (Hamburg Port Training Institute), trainings are realised to increase the efficiency of the handling capacity. These trainings take place in Germany and Kuwait. RIRP organises, within such programs, the selection of qualified participants, visa arrangements, if the candidates shall be brought to Germany, up to the organisation of all travel arrangements. Depending of the complexity of the needed trainings, it is possible to realise trainings for Iraqi professionals in training centres in Germany, Kuwait and Jordan and even inside Iraq.

In addition, the RIRP expanded its services for companies in the fields of consulting, information and within the search for business partners.

This way, member companies of the RIRP have the opportunity to obtain information about business opportunities, potential business partners, suppliers or vendors.

Within these services the RIRP offers, on the basis of concrete inquiries, the evaluation of potential Iraqi business partners and companies from all branches for future cooperation.
